LET The Right One In (15) is the scariest thing to come out of Sweden since ABBA. Bullied Oskar, above, finds friendship with his new neighbour, fellow 12-year-old Eli. But it turns out she is 200... and a vampire. It opens on April 10.

Hush

(15) 91mins

SHOUT it out loud – Hush is the best British horror in years.

Tell your friends – and their friends – that if they like tense, inventive thrillers, they should check this out.

Otherwise this low-budget film will not get seen and that would be an injustice.

The film starts with Mancunian couple Zakes and Beth having a row while driving up the M1 when he catches a glimpse of a caged naked woman in the back of a truck.

Zakes, well played by Will Ash, right, tries not to get deeply involved at first, but finds himself drawn into a deadly game of cat and mouse with the van's hooded driver.

Often you think you know where the story is going before it takes a different turn.

Writer/director Mark

Tonderai never goes down the easy shock-torture route, instead opting for suspense.

Hush is so good Hollywood is sure to come calling for Tonderai soon. Make sure you are able to shout about seeing his talents first.
